

As seen in the May 2011 issue of

 AMERICAN art COLLECTOR

STAR LIANA YORK

Artist Biography

Since arriving in the Southwest in 1985, Star Liana York's body of work has reflected the cultural diversity and history of the area. The source of inspiration for a significant part of her work comes from Native American and Western culture. She also is inspired by native wildlife and mythology and the mysteries of ancient sacred sites.

Horses have been another source of inspiration. Since the purchase of her first horse in high school, York has been intrigued by the fluidity of line and mass of equine anatomy, as well as by the animal's fiery instincts.

Price Range

$300 to $42,000

Purchase Inquiries

Manitou Galleries
(505) 986-0440
www.manitougalleries.com

Scratch, bronze, 9 x 13 x 5"

Rocksie, bronze, 6 x 4 x 4"